The Women's Center

The Women's Center at Banner Good Samaritan Medical Center takes a unique approach to women's health by combining academic training for obstetrics and gynecology residents with experienced board-certified physicians. This allows the practice to provide advanced care for complicated women's health issues as well as routine exams. Whether you are looking for a primary care physician who understands women's health or a specialist in prenatal care, The Women's Center offers the care you need.

Banner Health, a nonprofit organization, is the preferred provider of women's health services in Maricopa County. More than 27,000 deliveries and 8,000 gynecologic procedures occur each year at our six local acute care hospitals.

The Women's Center is a key resource in central Phoenix. Because Banner Good Samaritan is the primary referral site for high-risk and complicated women's medical services, patients travel from all areas of the state to receive inpatient, outpatient and in-office care on our campus. Most major health insurance plans are accepted, and a sliding fee is available for qualified, low income patients.

Faculty

John Martin, MD, F.A.C.O.G., is the faculty physician who oversees The Women's Center. Having practiced women's health care for over 35 years, Dr. Martin is especially proud of the level of care patients receive at The Women's Center.

Patients at the Banner Good Samaritan Women's Center benefit from the expertise of the hospital's attending physicians and resident staff.

Our practice is affiliated with Banner Good Samaritan medical Center, and our office is located just south of the main hospital.

Our Mission: We exist to make a difference in people's lives through excellent patient care.

In addition, we continue to offer cost-efficient care through our Women's Clinic staffed by Banner Good Samaritan residents and attending faculty, many of whom are featured annually in Phoenix Magazine's "Top Docs" issue.

As a teaching hospital with an obstetrics and gynecology residency program, Banner Good Samaritan can offer women the latest techniques in both routine and highly-complex conditions coupled with quality patient care. Several studies conducted since 1989 show that patients at academic teaching hospitals receive better quality of care and process of care, especially for complex conditions. In addition, a certified nurse practitioner ensures you can always be seen in a timely manner.

Network of Care

One of the most impressive features of The Women's Center is its referral network of nationally recognized specialty physicians who treat patients at Banner Good Samaritan Medical Center. The physicians work closely with many leading obstetrical, high-risk OB and gynecological practices in central Arizona. The Women's Center is also closely connected with orthopedic surgeons, oncologists and other specialists.

Social worker and nutritionist consultations are also available to provide patients a continuum of care. When visiting the physicians at The Women's Center, you can rest assured that no matter what your health condition, they will find you the treatment you need.

On-Site Laboratory

The Women's Center uses an on-site laboratory. For patients this means you can have most routine lab tests obtained inside the clinic. This saves time and eliminates the need for patients to make additional appointments and to travel to an outside lab for blood tests.

Insurance

The Women's Center accepts all forms of insurance and works with patients who do not have insurance to arrange payments on a sliding scale. Since this is an academic learning environment, all patients receive the highest quality care regardless of their insurance status.

The Banner Good Samaritan Obstetrics and Gynecology Residency Program and Faculty Practice is located in the Edwards Medical Plaza, Suite #407, across the street from the main hospital on the southwest corner of 12th Street and Willetta. This location is especially convenient for patients who may need to be admitted into the hospital by their physician, or who may need complex diagnostic testing.

Banner Good Samaritan Medical Center's Department of Obstetrics and Gynecology has been recognized by U.S. News & World Report as one of America's Best Hospitals. This survey ranks the top 50 hospitals in the country in each specialty.
