

Behavioral Sciences

Behavioral sciences focuses on family systems assessment, individual diagnosis, brief therapy interventions, the development of counseling skills, and personal well-being. The behavioral science department provides this content during didactics and family medicine rotations. Behavioral science faculty round with interns on the Adult Medicine Service. In addition, the behavioral science faculty is available to see patients with residents and in the outpatient clinic.