Complying with the Copyright Laws when distributing copies of articles

Banner has a system-wide annual business license with the Copyright Clearance Center (CCC), which allows us to distribute print and/or electronic copies of copyrighted materials covered by the license. A search of their database (http://www.copyright.com/) will show you the permissions for any journal.

You must request permission from the journal for any journal or use not covered by the CCC license. Checking the journal website is a good place to start the "permission request" process.
